

SUSAN YAW SCHOLARSHIP

Open for Applications

Susan Yaw, President of North Central UniServ from 2013-2016, was a strong advocate for continuing education. She established programs in her district, Quincy, and in the Council to assist educators in getting their NBCT or ProTeach certificates. Susan brought a number of classes to North Central focused on evaluation and special education and opened opportunities for members to get ongoing education in our local area and at a low or reasonable cost.

Susan lost her battle with cancer in August of 2016 and in her memory a scholarship fund, the Susan Yaw Scholarship, has been established to assist members who want to pursue NBCT, ProTeach, Masters degrees, professional development or are paraprofessionals getting a teaching degree.

The scholarship is being administered by the Community Foundation of North Central Washington. 3 - $500 scholarships are available to worthy candidates for the fall of 2019. The link to apply is <https://cfncw.org/susan-yaw-memorial-scholarship/>. Applications will be open through the 31st of March. Selection will take place in April and scholarships will be awarded at the North Central UniServ Council Meeting on May 29th.

The Council has chosen to honor Susan by continuing the work that she began. If you believe you are an eligible candidate please take the time to fill out the application and join us in honoring Susan's memory and Susan's work.
